

Preserving the Appalachian Trail for Future Generations

Much like the passing of a legacy within a family, ATC members are committed to protecting the Appalachian Trail and passing on its wonders to future generations. Since 1925, our mission hasn't wavered: We believe that the beauty of the Trail should be enjoyed by everyone... today, tomorrow and for many years to come. This is only possible through our ongoing advocacy and conservation efforts, the tireless work of our volunteers and the generous financial support of our members.

In addition to providing immediate financial support, there are other ways to give and make the ATC part of your own legacy. These gifts can take many forms, which you will learn about by exploring this site.

Many of these options will not only support the ATC, but you will find that they can also provide benefits to you and your loved ones in the form of tax savings, income in your retirement years and more.

We hope through careful financial planning, you will find an option that will work best for you. If we can be of assistance with your gift planning, please do not hesitate to contact us.
